al growth rate of foodgrains in the Eighth Five Year Plan has been of the order of 2.6% which is higher than that of the natural population growth rate of 1.9%.

(b) The reasons for not achieving the targets for Eighth Five Year Plan are as under:

(i) Physical targets set for the Five Year Plan were not commensurate with financial resources made available in the Plan outlays.

(ii) The funding for the irrigation sector with respect to total State Plan size has steadily been declining from the Fifth Plan onwards. Against the share of irrigation sector as 23.25% in the Fifth Plan and 20.85% in the Sixth, it was 15.00% in the Eighth Plan.

(iii) Consequent to thin spreading of resources, time and cost-over-runs, out of the 158 major and 2267 medium projects spilling over from previous plan into Eighth Plan only 11 major and 34 medium projects are anticipated to have been completed during the Eight Plan.

(c) In order to increase production of various crops, the Government is implementing crop specific centrally sponsored schemes/programmes under which incentives are provided to farmers for use of quality seeds and location specific high yielding/hybrid varieties, application of integrated pest management, propagation of scientific water management including micro irrigation, improved farm implements etc. Besides, field demonstration on farmers' holdings inculding training of farmers and farm labourers are organised for effective transfer of technology. Further, under the national agenda for governance, the Government has given fresh thrust to double the food production in next ten years through adoption of regionally differentiated growth strategies, creation of farming infrastructure and more efficient use of resources.
